Facilitation Certificate Program

"Great teaching is at the heart of every great school."

Are you interested in developing your facilitation and professional development leadership skills?

Our Approach

Reach believes that high quality ongoing professional learning is a critical factor in improving schools. However, teacher leaders are often asked to lead professional learning communities without being given the training and support to develop their own skills. In the Facilitation Certificate Program, you will be introduced to adult learning theory and research-based professional development frameworks, as well as develop your facilitation skills.

Program Goals

Facilitation Certificate holders will be able to design and build effective professional learning communities, and will develop a toolbox to analyze and effectively respond to challenging facilitation situations.
